Yarrrrrr!!! Sly says he hopes you consider adopting one of his buddies at LCAS. His adoption is pending but plenty more cats, dogs, and little pets are looking for fur-ever homes! See them all online at www.loudoun.gov/animals.

It is time to PLAY!! Playgroups are incredibly important for the physical and mental health of shelter dogs. Check out this video of three awesome pups from this morning's playgroup. ♥

Blind/Deaf Shelter Dogs Networking/Kita Angel Network Dogs no matter what degree of lost vision or hearing or both, including total loss of both, go on living full lives in safe and secure homes. After a while they and you forget that there is an issue. I know such a dog and he is a sheer joy!!! They adapt amazingly well, do enjoy and do have a great quality of life and are the same characters, the same happy & loving dogs, if not more so, as their sighted and hearing peers. This sweet pup will be no different!!!

Loudoun County Animal Services Hi, Teresa! The process is pretty simple and you can read the full details online at <https://www.loudoun.gov/index.aspx?nid=536>. This little guy is still waiting out a hold period to allow an owner the opportunity to find him. Once that has past then he will be available for adoption. Feel free to email or call us with any questions. 703 777 0406 or animals@loudoun.gov

There might not be a better way to start the morning: kitten kisses and purrs!

(And snuggles directly after. Conrad loves to snuggle in the nook of your neck.)
